Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. The solution proposed in claims 1-19 of the present application can be considered as being novel (Article 33(2) PCT) for the following reasons.
- 1.2. With respect to claim 1:
Document US-A-3,056,624, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art, discloses particularly in figure 5 and the corresponding description a release hook for selectively releasing a load support on the hook comprising:
 - a) a pad-eye for connecting the hook to a crane,
 - b) an ejector lever for releasing the load from the hook upon actuation of the ejector lever, wherein
 - c) actuation of the ejector lever is provided by a motor (57) and gearing (38,39) located adjacent the ejector lever.

The concept, that the motor and the gear means move the ejector lever upwards towards the pad-eye to eject the load, is neither suggested nor rendered obvious by the available prior art.

2. Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the document US-A-3,056,624 is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.
3. The description is not in conformity with the claims as required by Rule 5.1(a)(iii) PCT.
4. The features of the claims are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).
